

Lowestoft Town Council does not permit trading within its car parks. This includes all selling or exposing or offering for sale of any article (including a living thing), and any trading of services or other activity commonly understood to be street trading (under the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1982. Car parks includes any of the Town Council's land regularly used for parking cars regardless of whether it is formally designated as a 'car park'. The Council reserves its right to deviate from this policy in any respect.
